Now in its fourth year, JOURNAL OF CANCER EDUCATION (JCE) is dedicated to serving physicians, nurses, dentists, students and other allied health professionals involved with all aspects of cancer education. Pertinent topics such as: student and continuing education; postgraduate oncologic discipline training; and patient and public education are regularly explored by JCE from medical, nursing, dental and psychological perspectives. In addition, the journal features original articles offering new approaches and advances that aim to improve the overall quality of cancer education. Contributions from leading experts in the field include:

- Presentation of Evaluation Measures
- Curricular Design for Professional Student Education
- Research Using Psychosocial Instruments
- Use of Computers in Education
- Topical Editorials
