

Patient #18 Malar skin changes

Supplementary Figure 1: Patient 18 treated at 2 mcg/kg/day developed a malar “butterfly rash” classically associated with systemic lupus erythematosus but did not develop other findings consistent with this disease nor develop any autoantibodies.